

ABSTRACT

5 A farm implement convertible between a work position and a transport position is disclosed. In the transport position, a compact package is formed less than eight feet in width and less than 14 feet in height. Right and left wings connected to the main frame may be raised by pushing articulated arms a short distance to fold the wings above the main frame.

20071410 020802